

JACKSON COUNTY RECYCLING DISTRICT ENVIRONMENTAL SCHOLARSHIP

The Jackson County Solid Waste Management District offers 5 – $1,000.00 scholarships annually to graduating seniors. This scholarship is available to seniors in any Jackson County High School or graduating home-schooled students. Recipients of the grants must be able to demonstrate an interest in environmental affairs through an essay of 250 – 500 words describing the importance of recycling in today's world. Include what part you have had in recycling or environmental stewardship programs.

Please attach the essay to a cover page that includes your name, address, telephone number, e-mail address, high school you attend, or home school information, and your parents' or guardians' names.

It is strongly suggested that applications submitted in writing be double-sided on recycled-content paper.

Return the application to the Jackson County Recycling District, P.O. Box 286 Brownstown, IN 47220 or send via e-mail to debbiehackman@aol.com

Recipients will be selected anonymously by the Jackson County Recycling District Citizen's Advisory Committee.

All applications must be received by March 31, 2018.
